An idea of the condition of the machinery probably will not be ascertained for several weeks. The company had two quite large contracts with builders engaged in wharf improvement projects at Honolulu and Hilo, on the territory's public piers. They were to supply a quantity of ohia blocks and timber. Whether this setback will materially affect the progress of the improvements has not been learned yet. It is understood much of the obla required for the Queen street wharf here is already on hand, but that little, if any, of the contract for lumber for the Hijo wharf has been filled.
